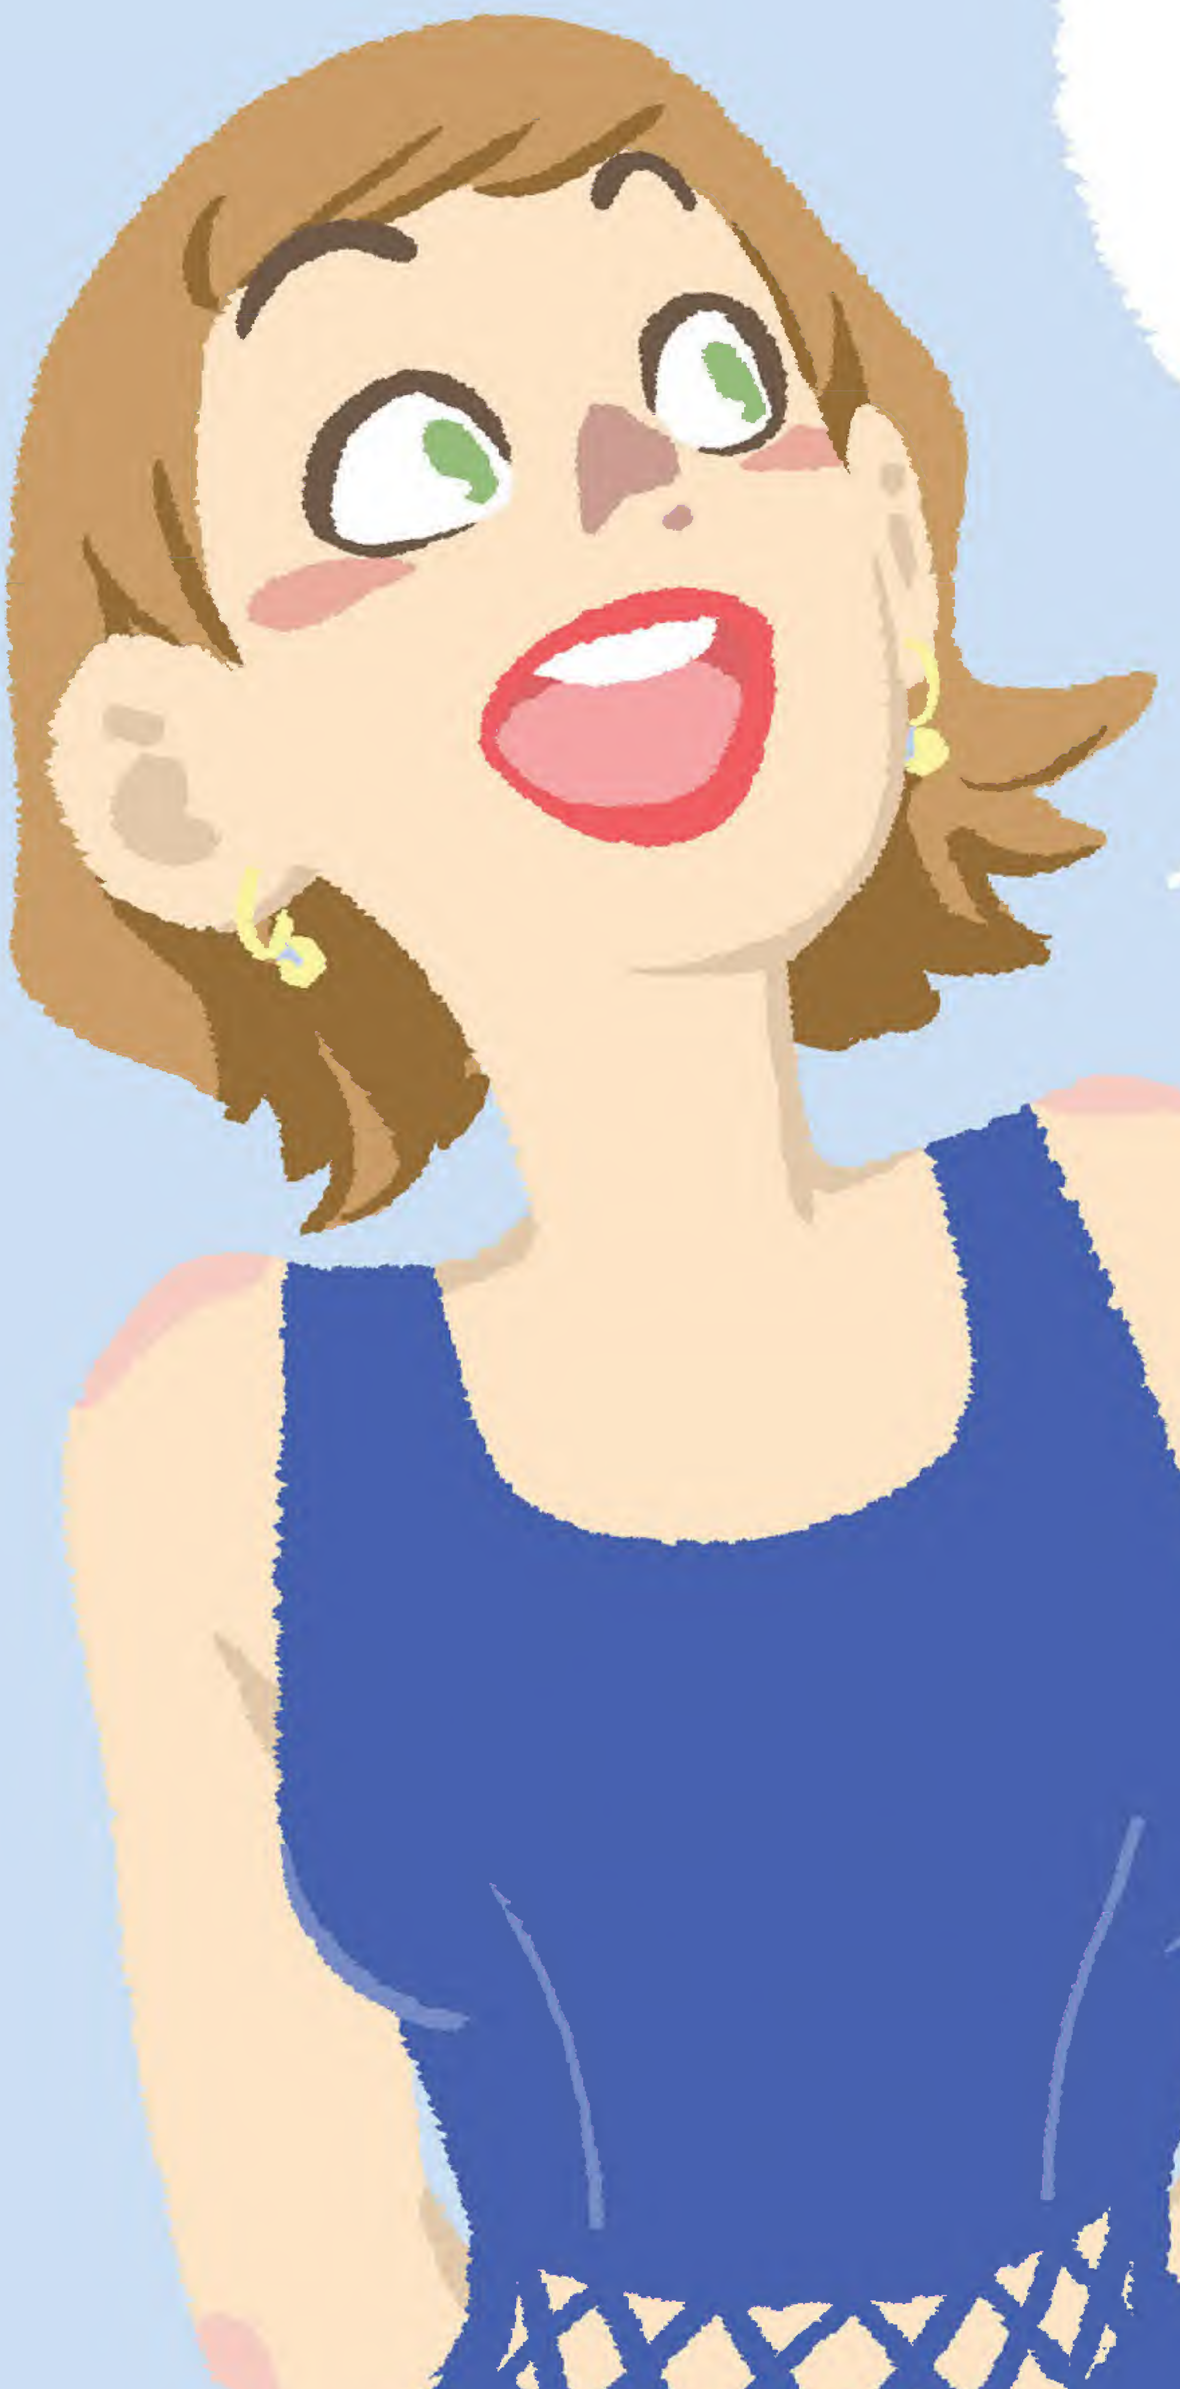
Amsterdam Sketchbook

Drawings from my first trip to Amsterdam!

Enjoy!



Natalie Nourigat

Amsterdam Sketchbook

WRITTEN AND DRAWN BY NATALIE "TALLY" NOURIGAT

monkeybrain COMICS
monkeybraincomics.com

AMSTERDAM SKETCHBOOK copyright © 2014 Natalie Nourigat. All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, graphic, electronic, or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, taping, or by any information storage or retrieval system, without the permission in writing from Monkeybrain, Inc. Names, characters, places and incidents featured in this publication either are a product of the author's imagination or are fictious. Any resemblence to actual persons living or dead, events, or locales, without satiric intent, is coincidental.

It's a new sketchbook, so the first order of business is testing my drawing tools on the paper.

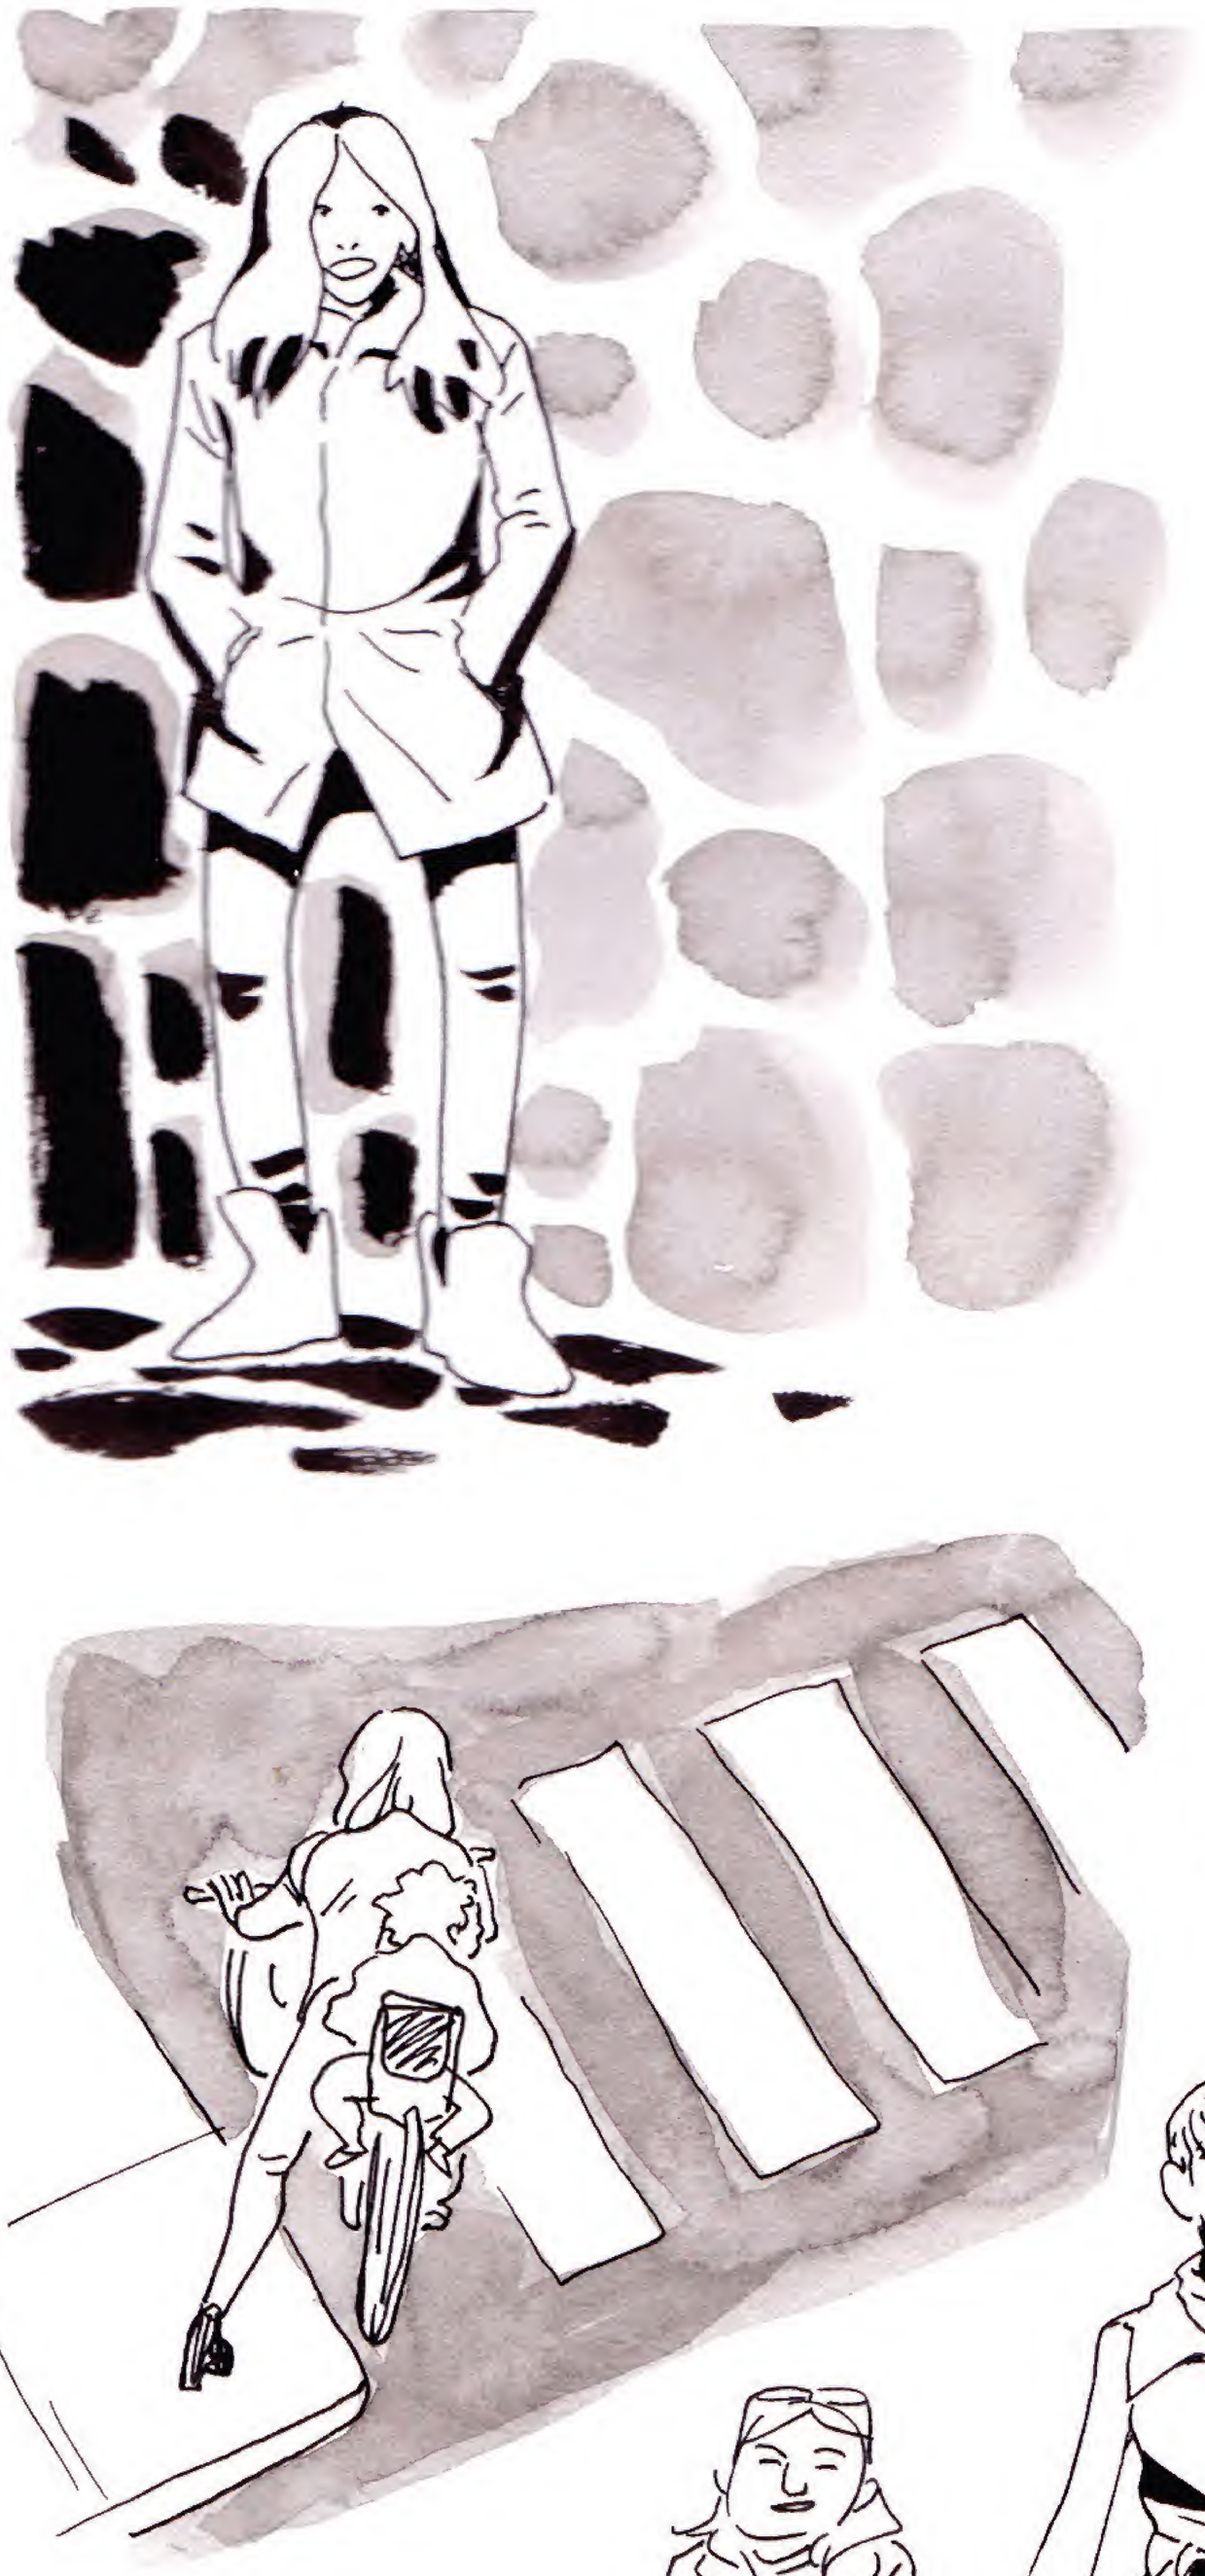
Platinum "Carbon Pen" for fine lines and hatching

Pentel pocket brush pen for thick lines, spot blacks, and some textures

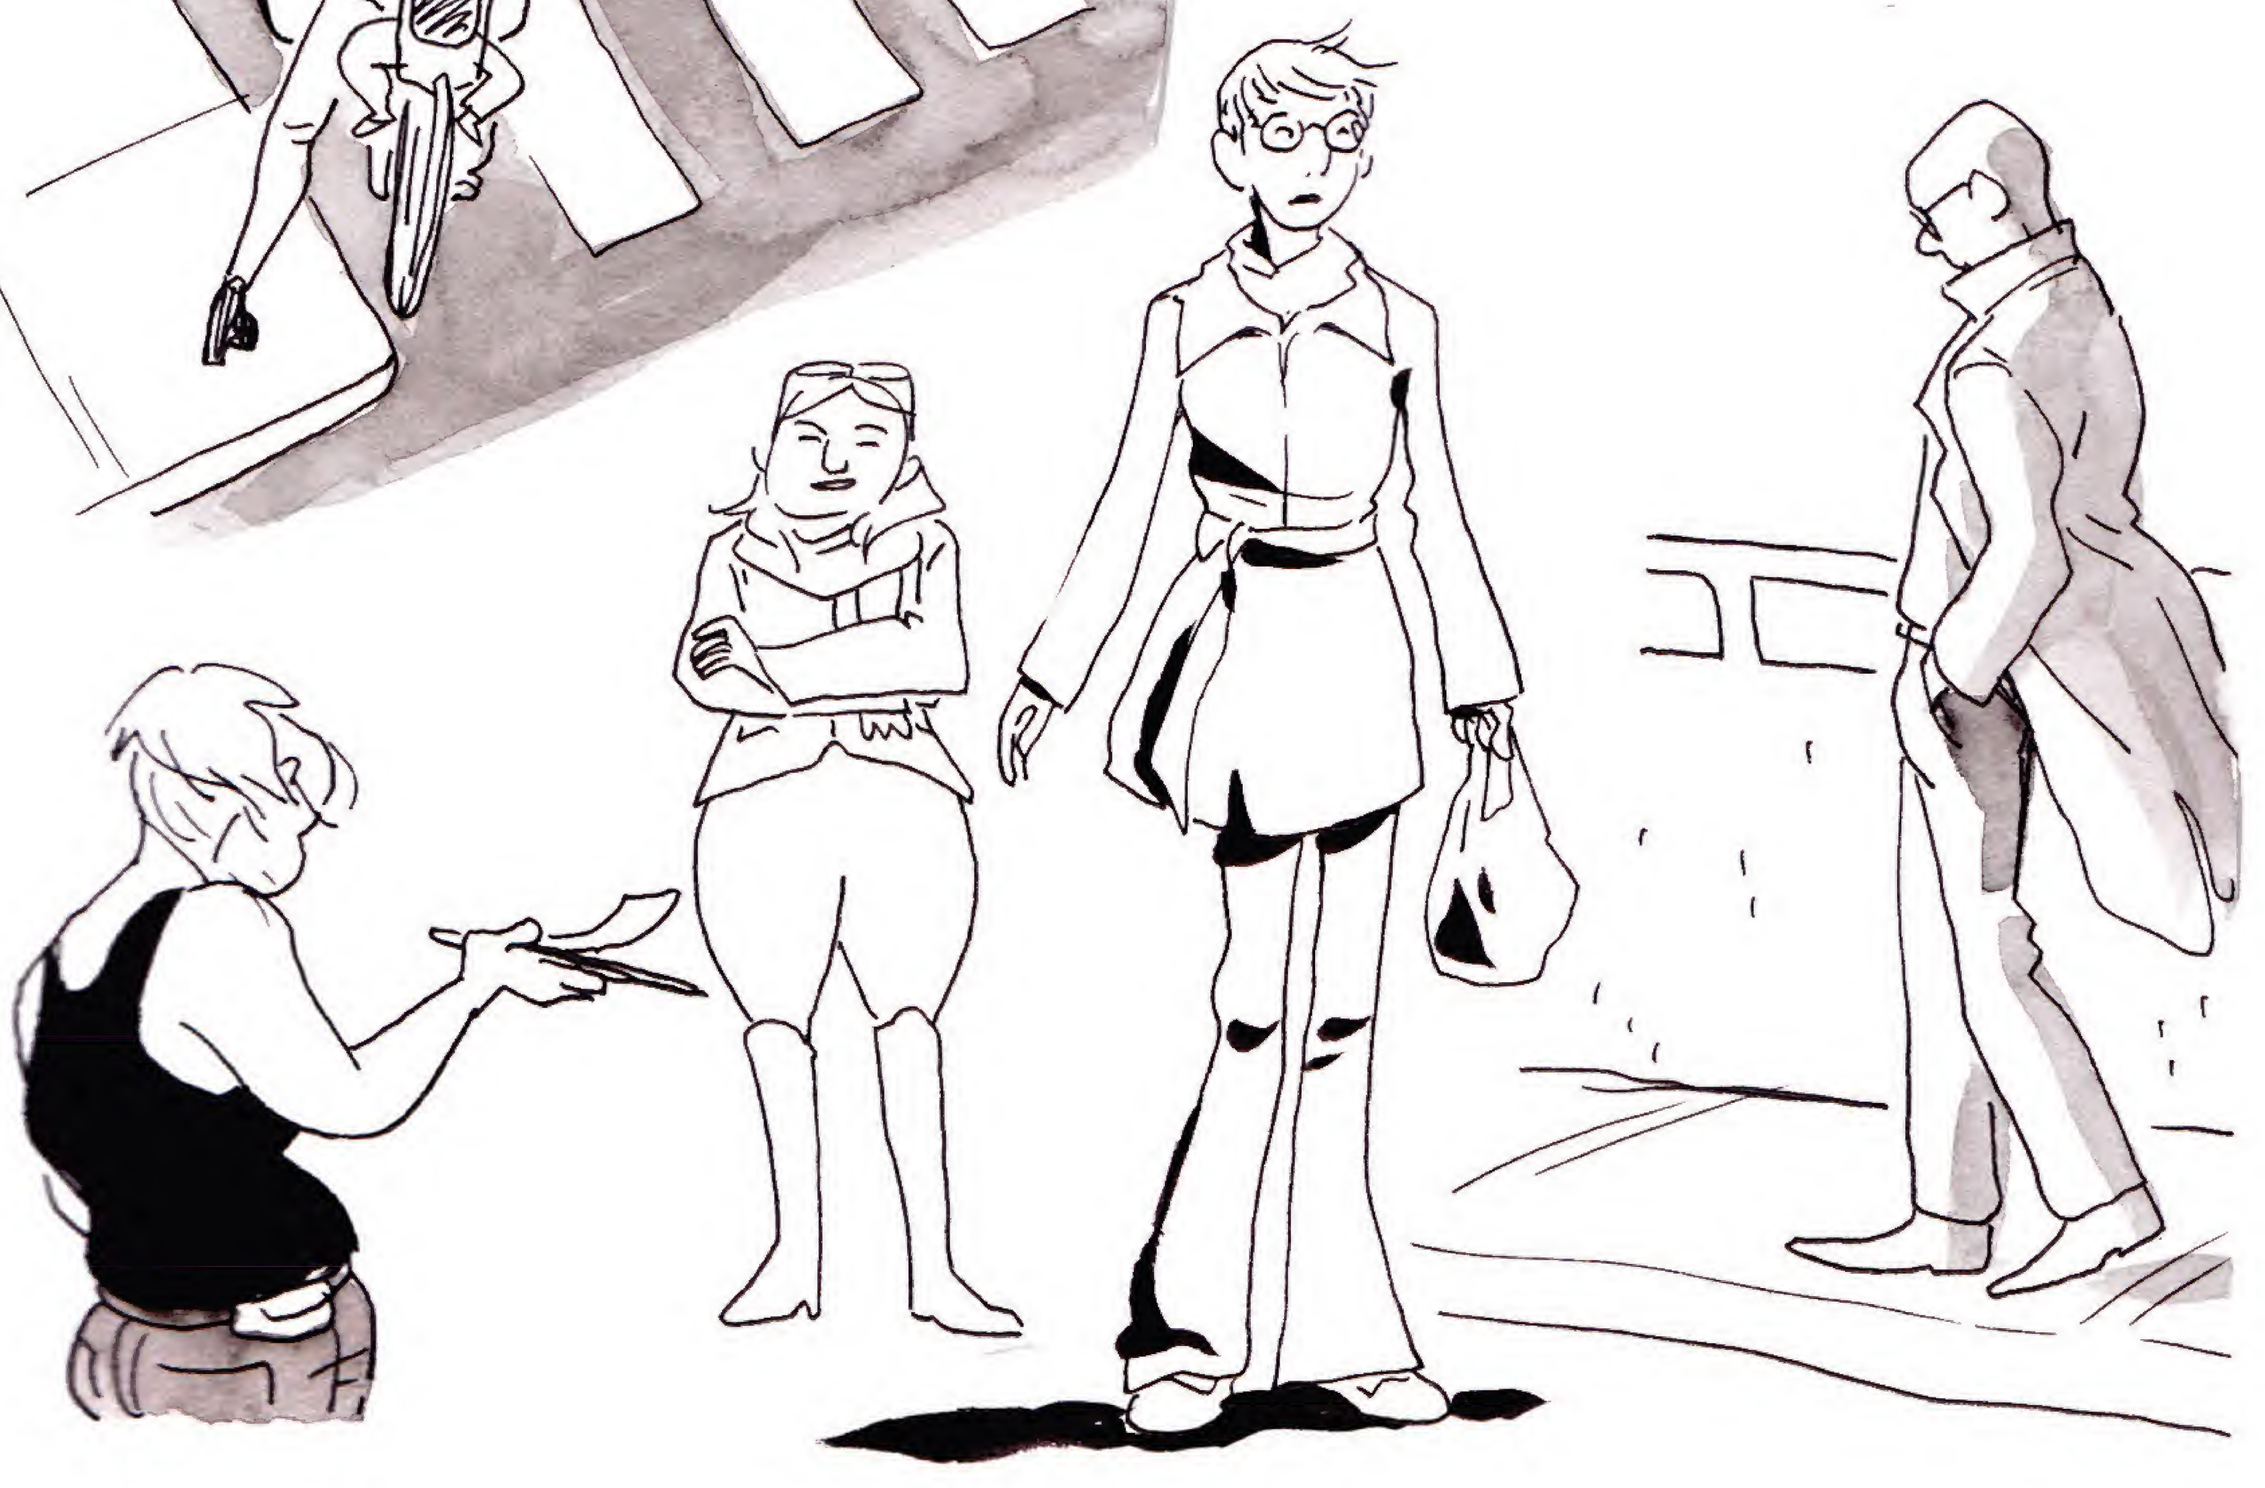
These tools work with almost all papers, but sometimes they can bleed, which makes my line art look fuzzy and is really frustrating.

LIFE DRAWING AROUND DOWNTOWN AMSTERDAM

One of my favorite ways to draw is by setting up in public and drawing people who I see going past. I look for cafés with window seats facing streets with lots of foot traffic — somewhere I can sit discretely for a long time and have a clear view of lots of interesting people!
(The absolute BEST is when there's a bus stop or crosswalk directly across the street from me — the people rotate but they stand still for a minute or two.)



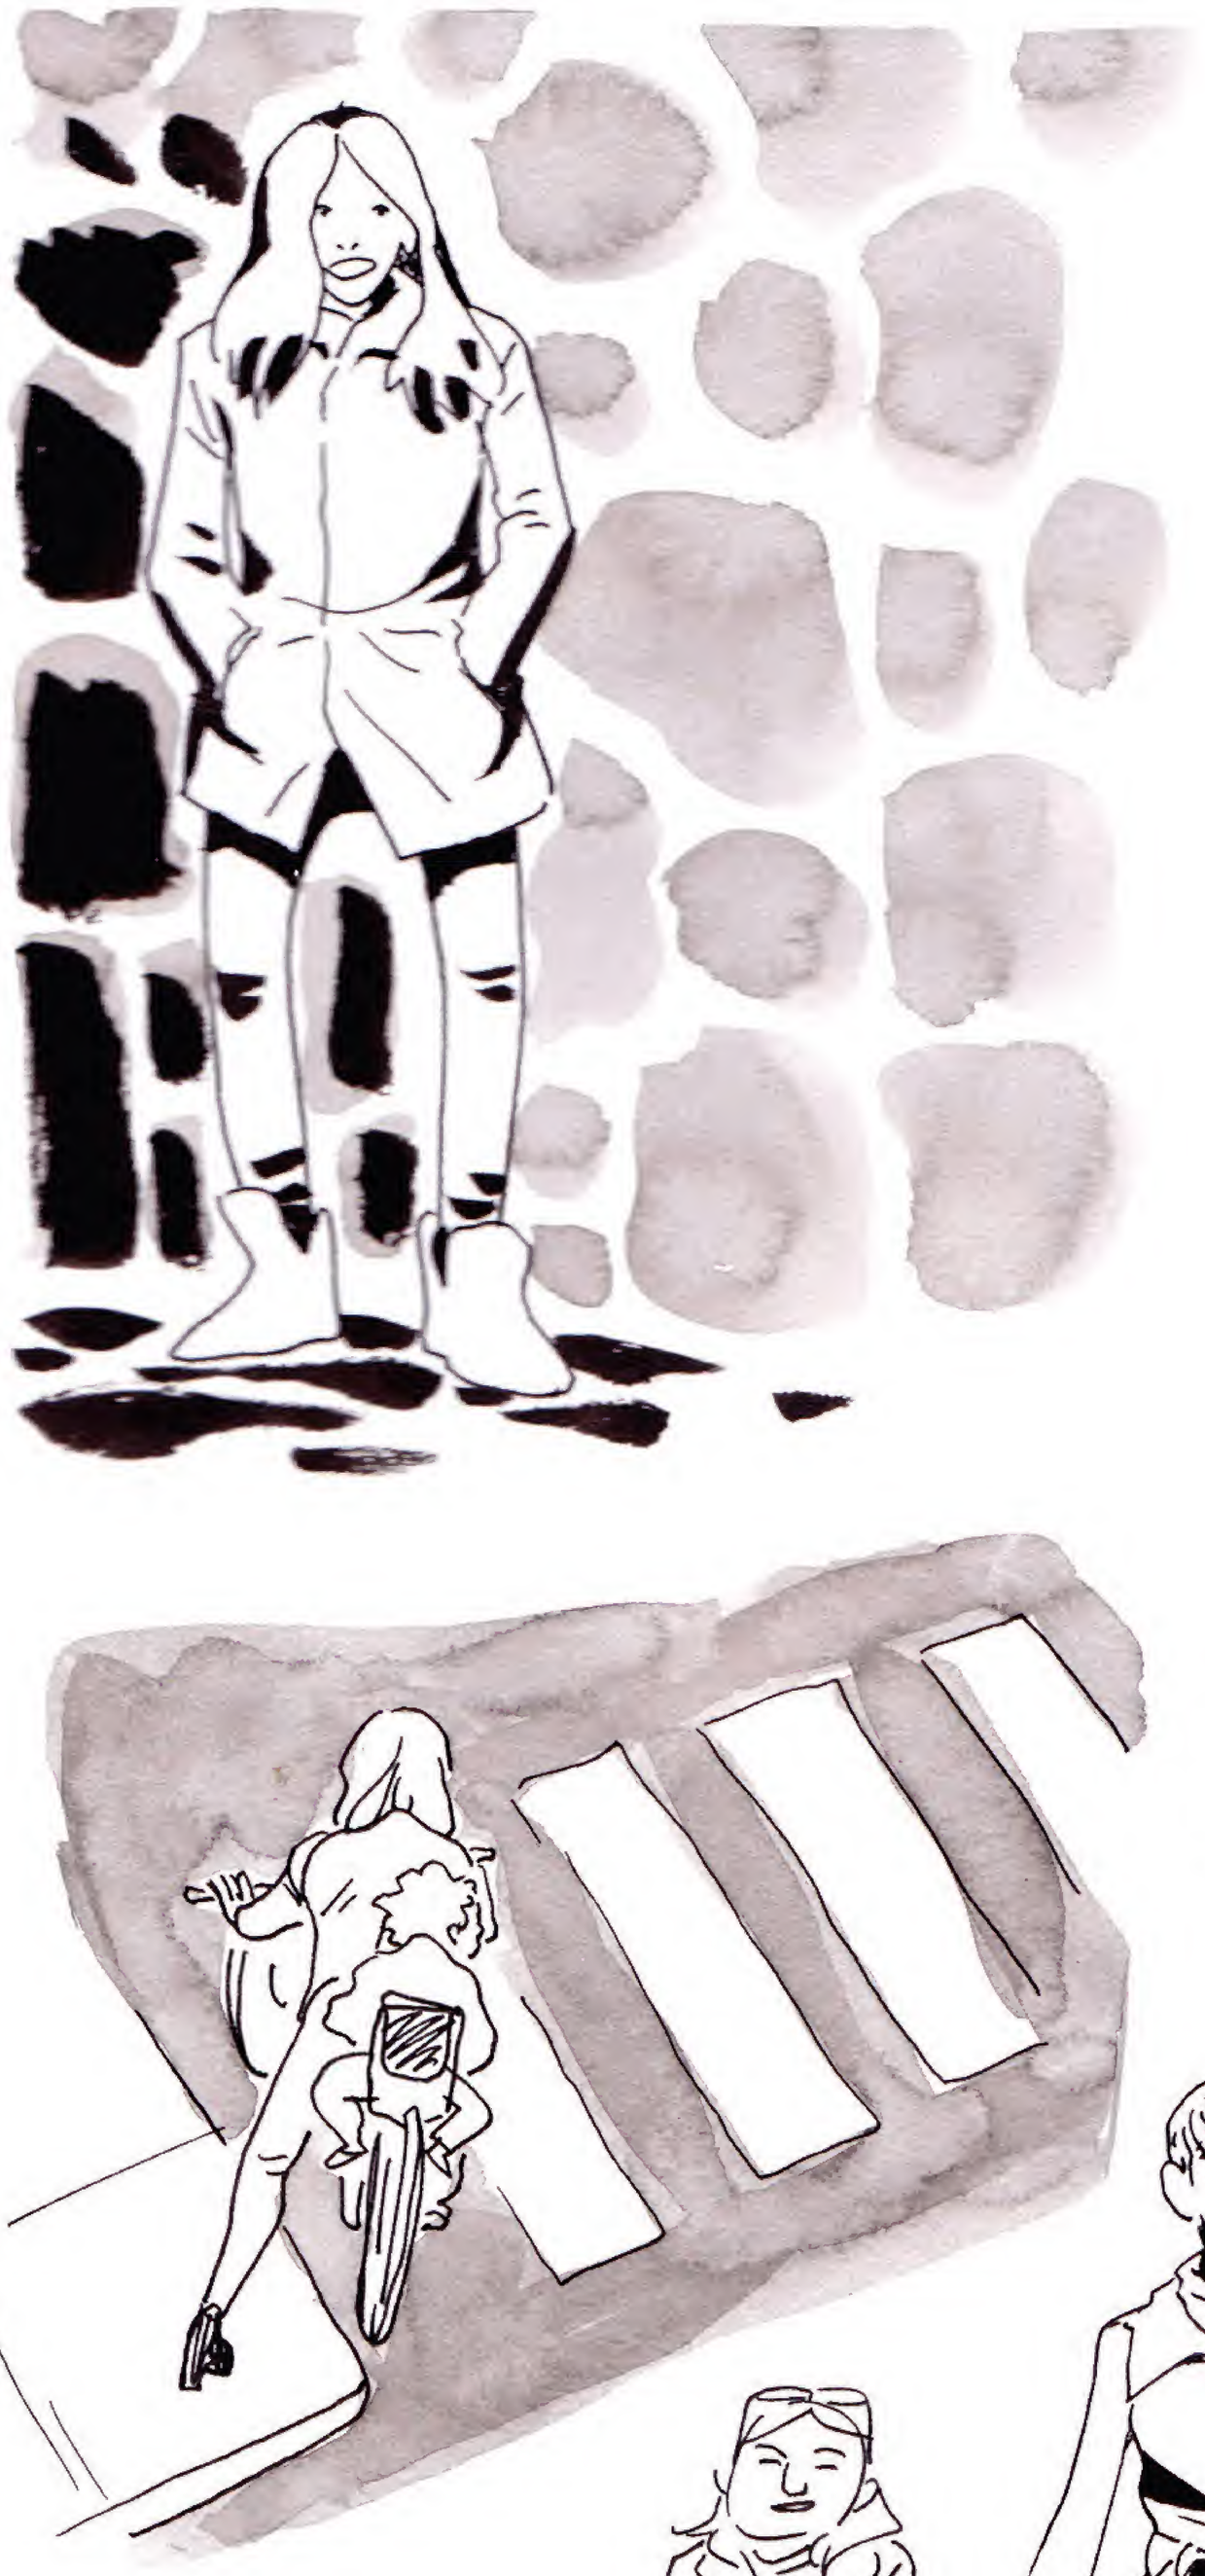
yawn



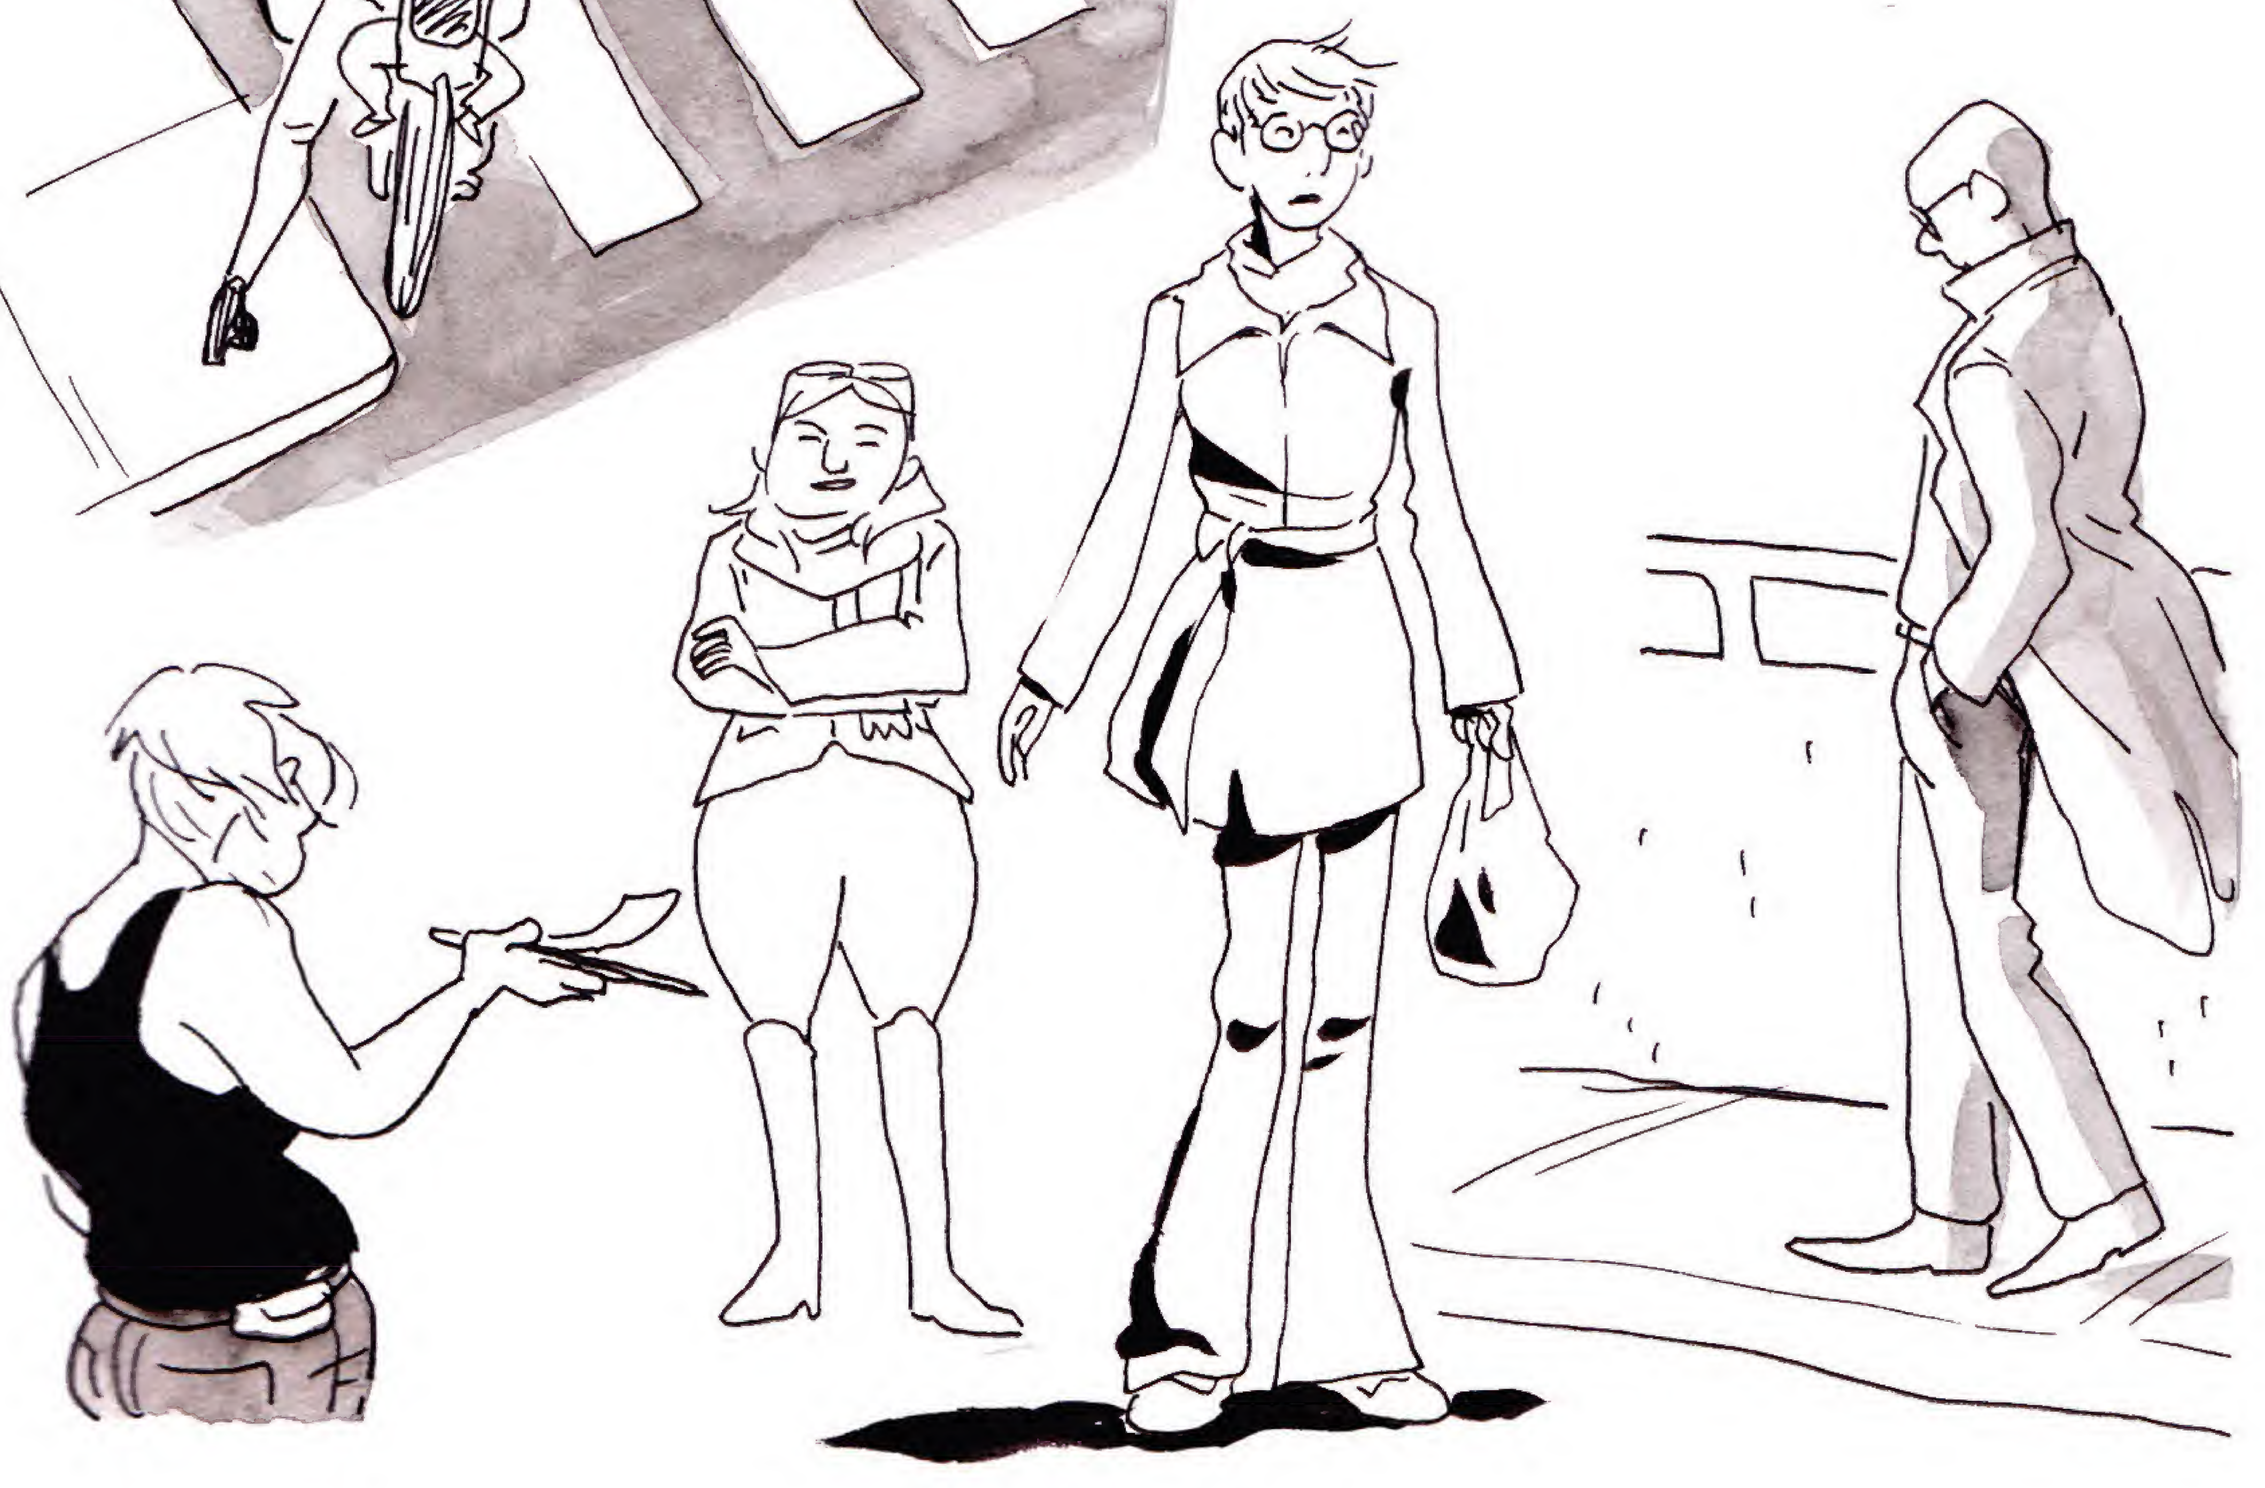
Seems like men put their left hand on their thigh to show they're comfortable on a bike

LIFE DRAWING AROUND DOWNTOWN AMSTERDAM

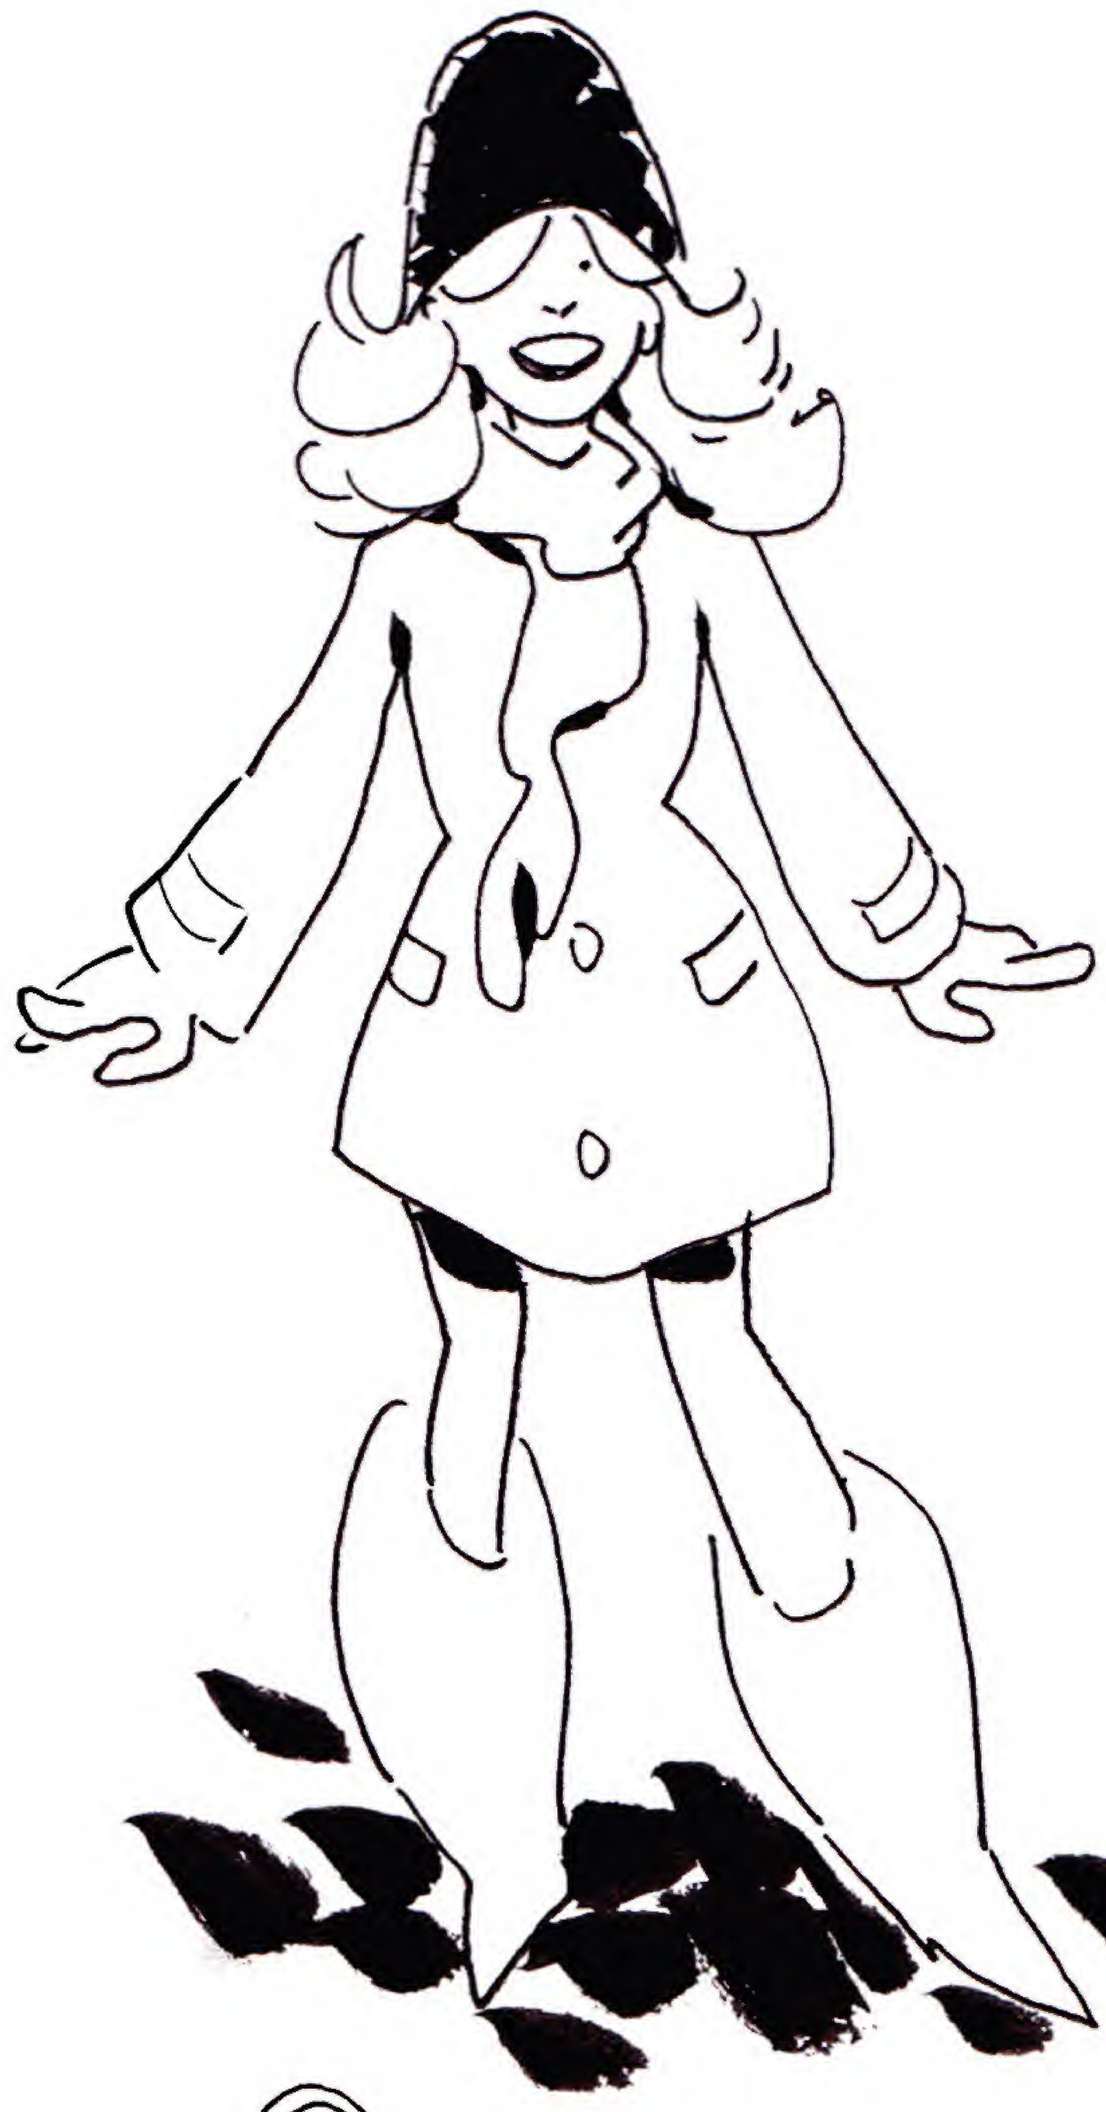
One of my favorite ways to draw is by setting up in public and drawing people who I see going past. I look for cafés with window seats facing streets with lots of foot traffic — somewhere I can sit discretely for a long time and have a clear view of lots of interesting people!
(The absolute BEST is when there's a bus stop or crosswalk directly across the street from me — the people rotate but they stand still for a minute or two.)

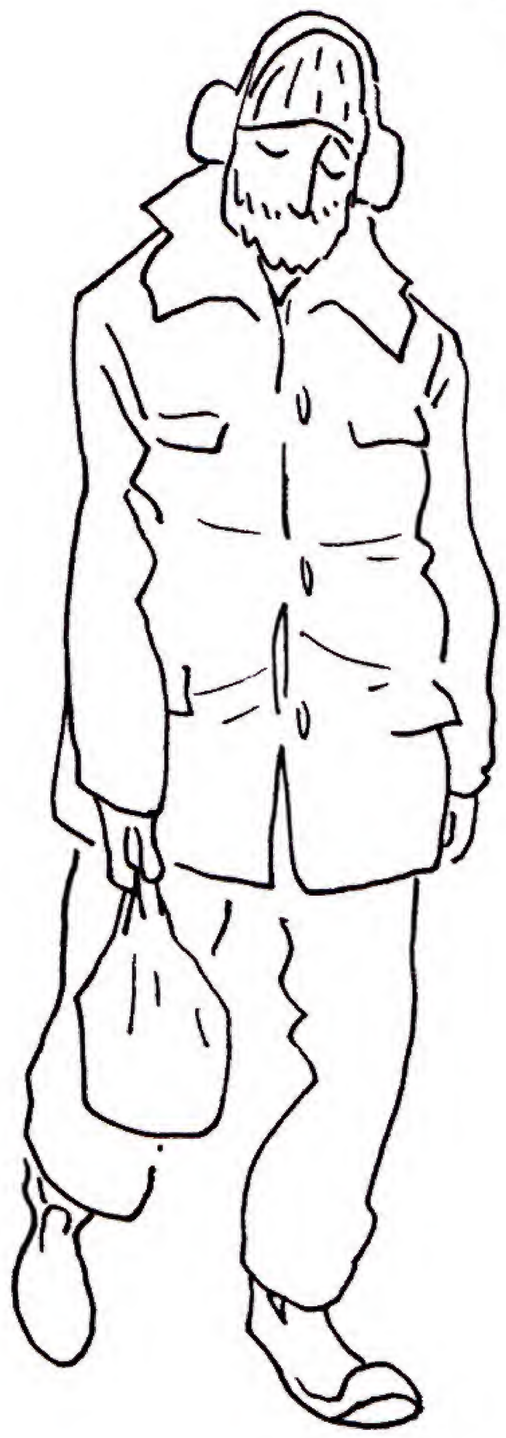


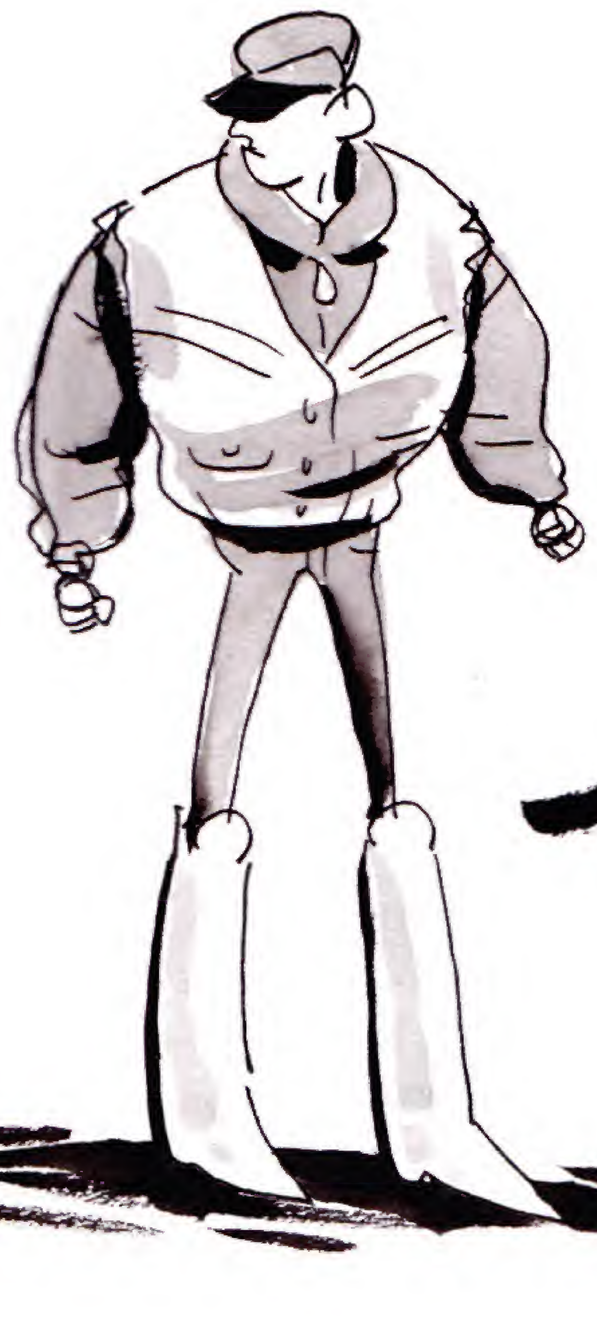
yawn

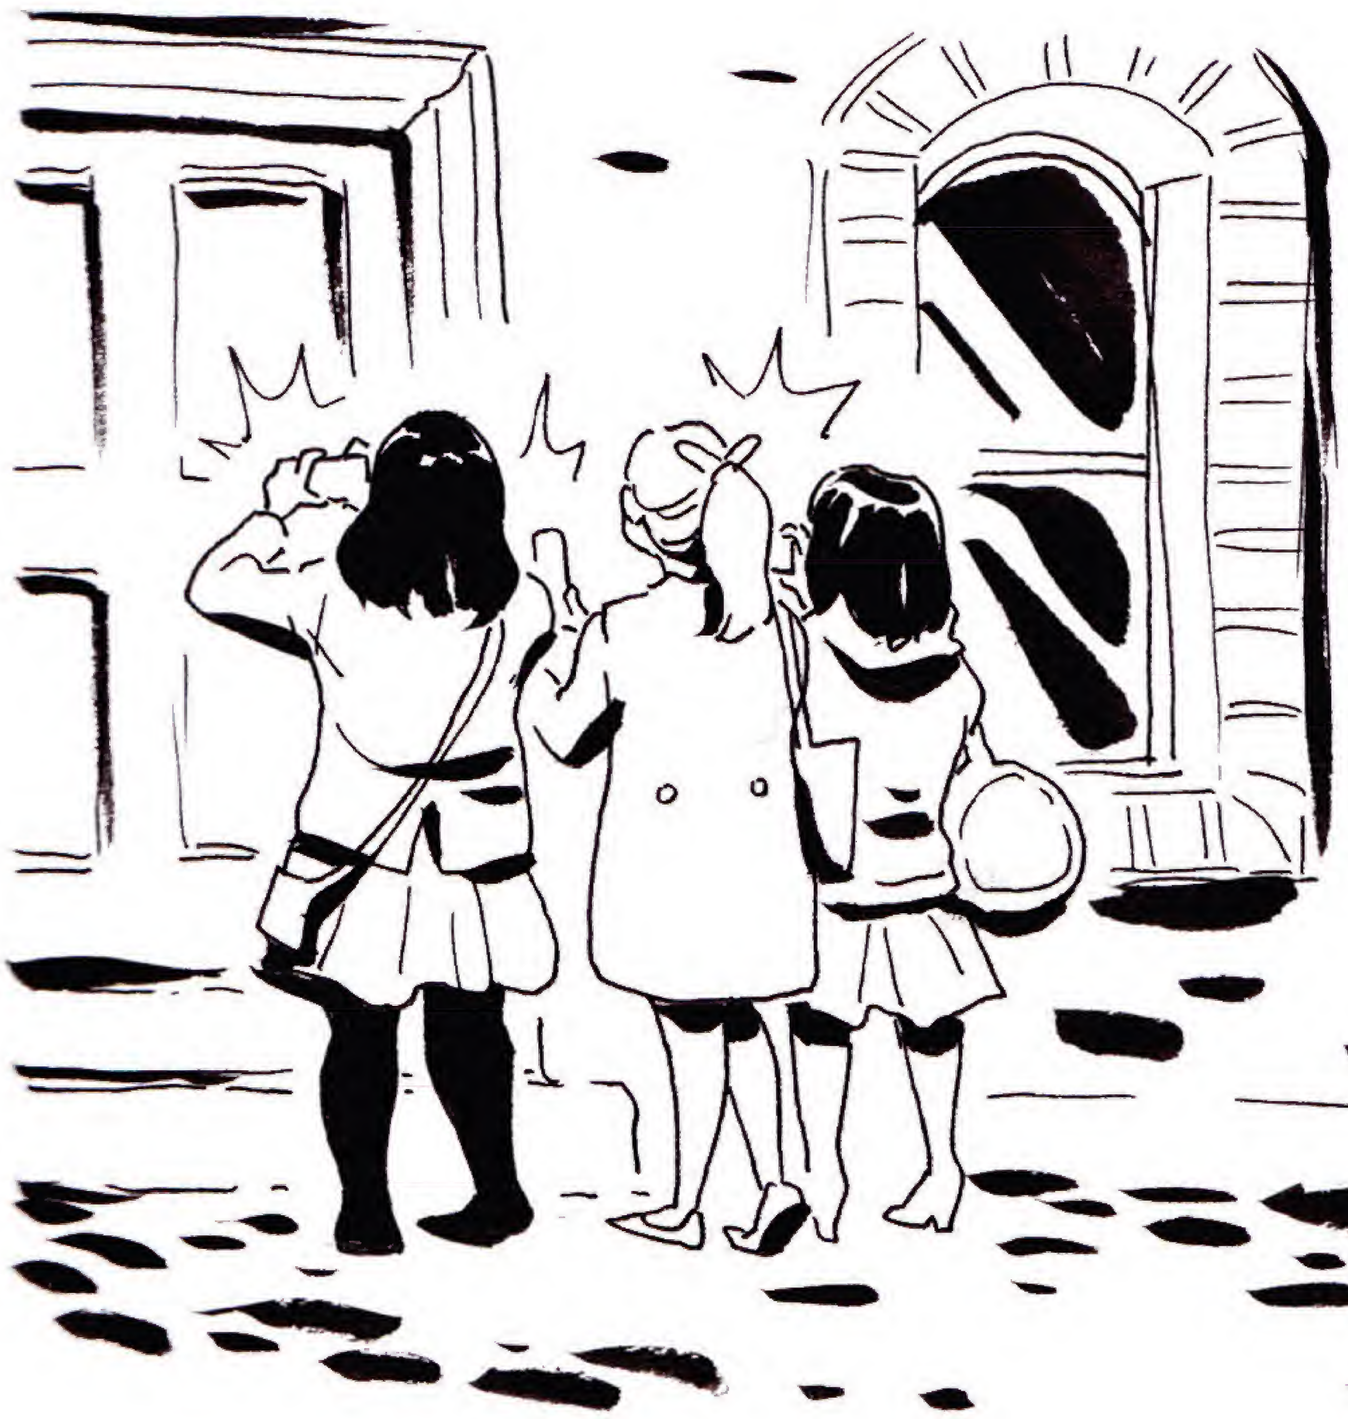


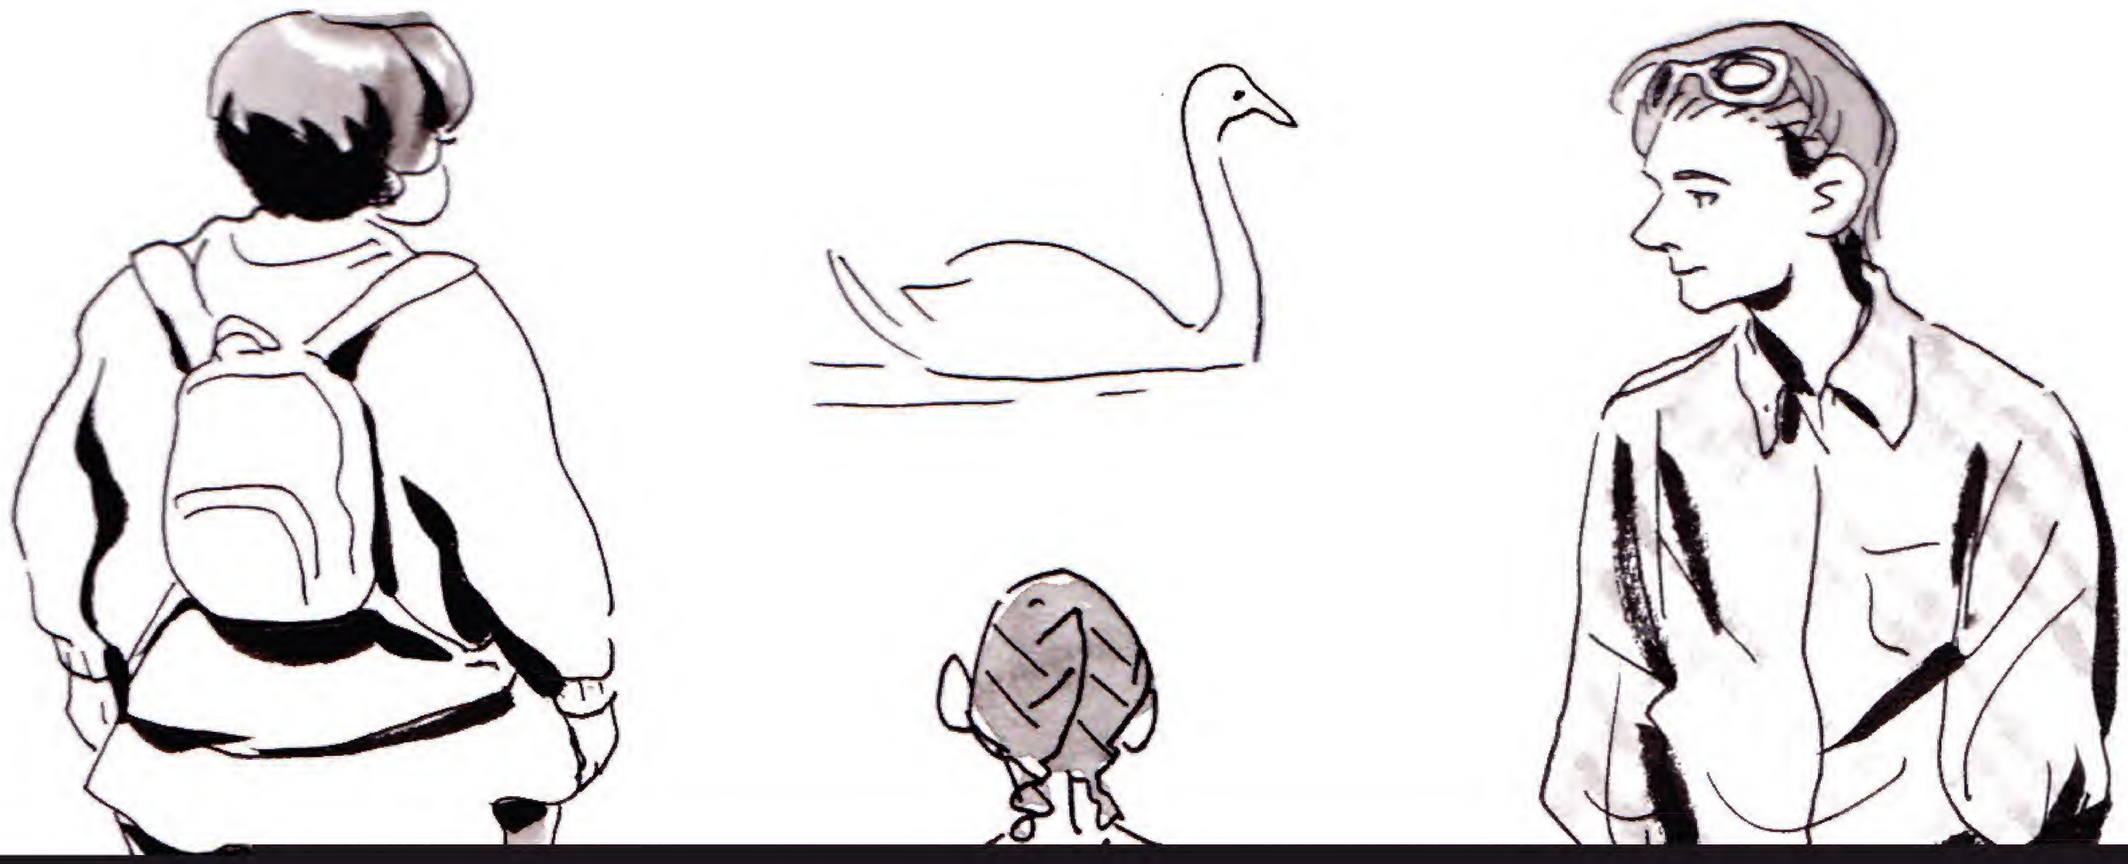
Seems like men put their left hand on their thigh to show they're comfortable on a bike



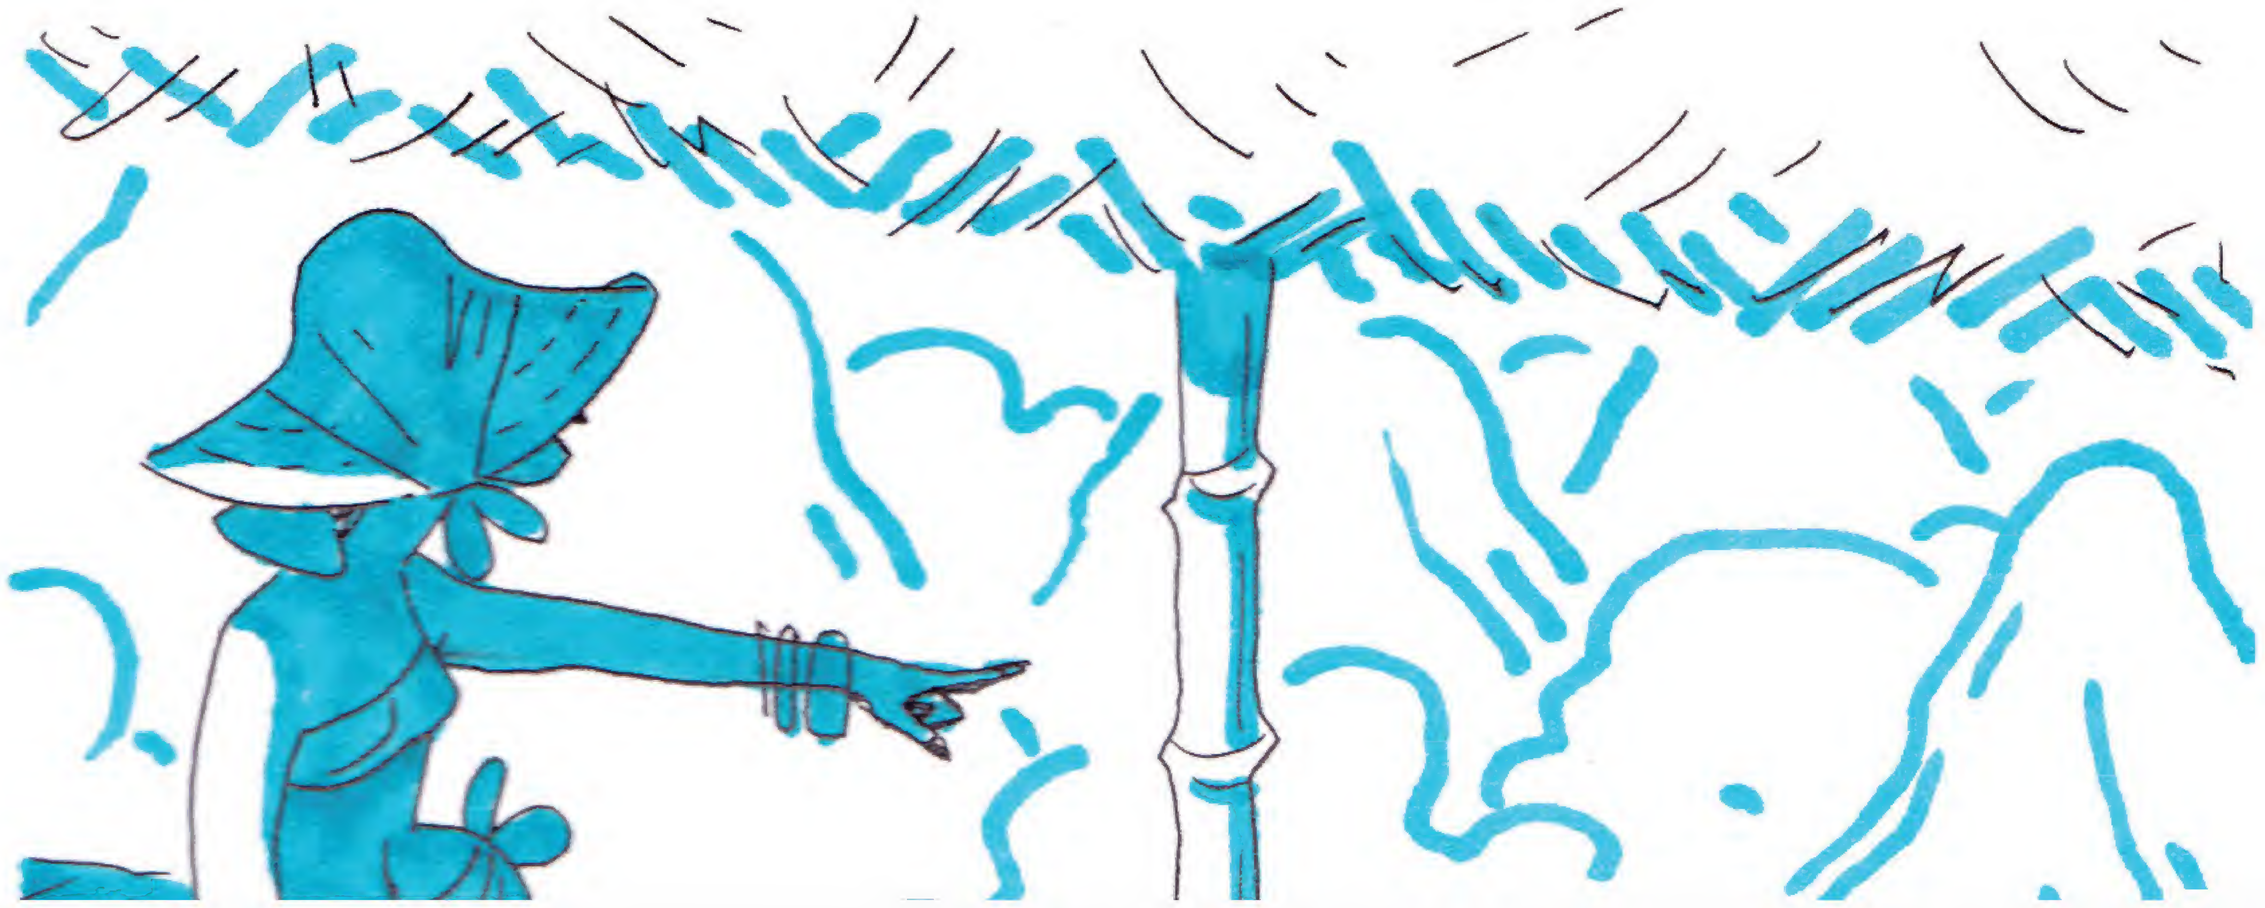


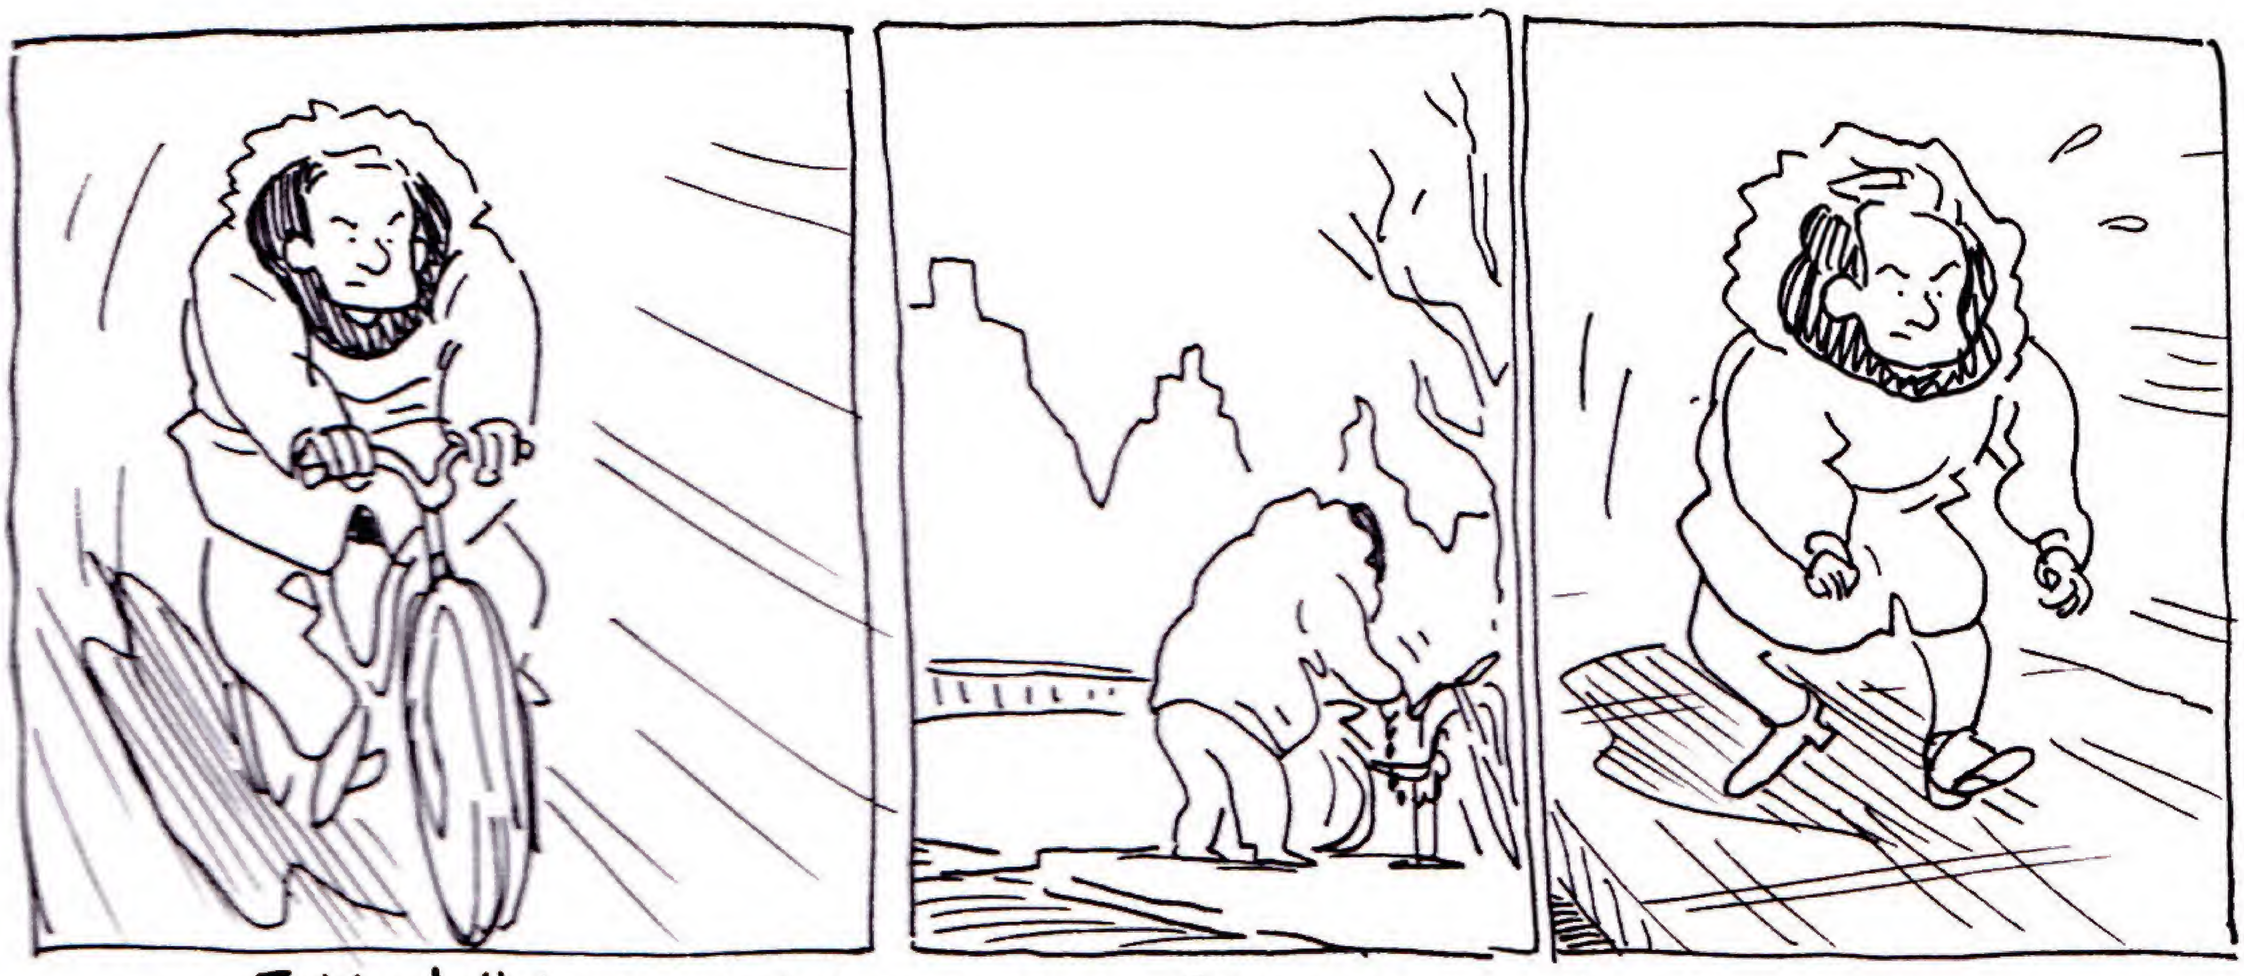






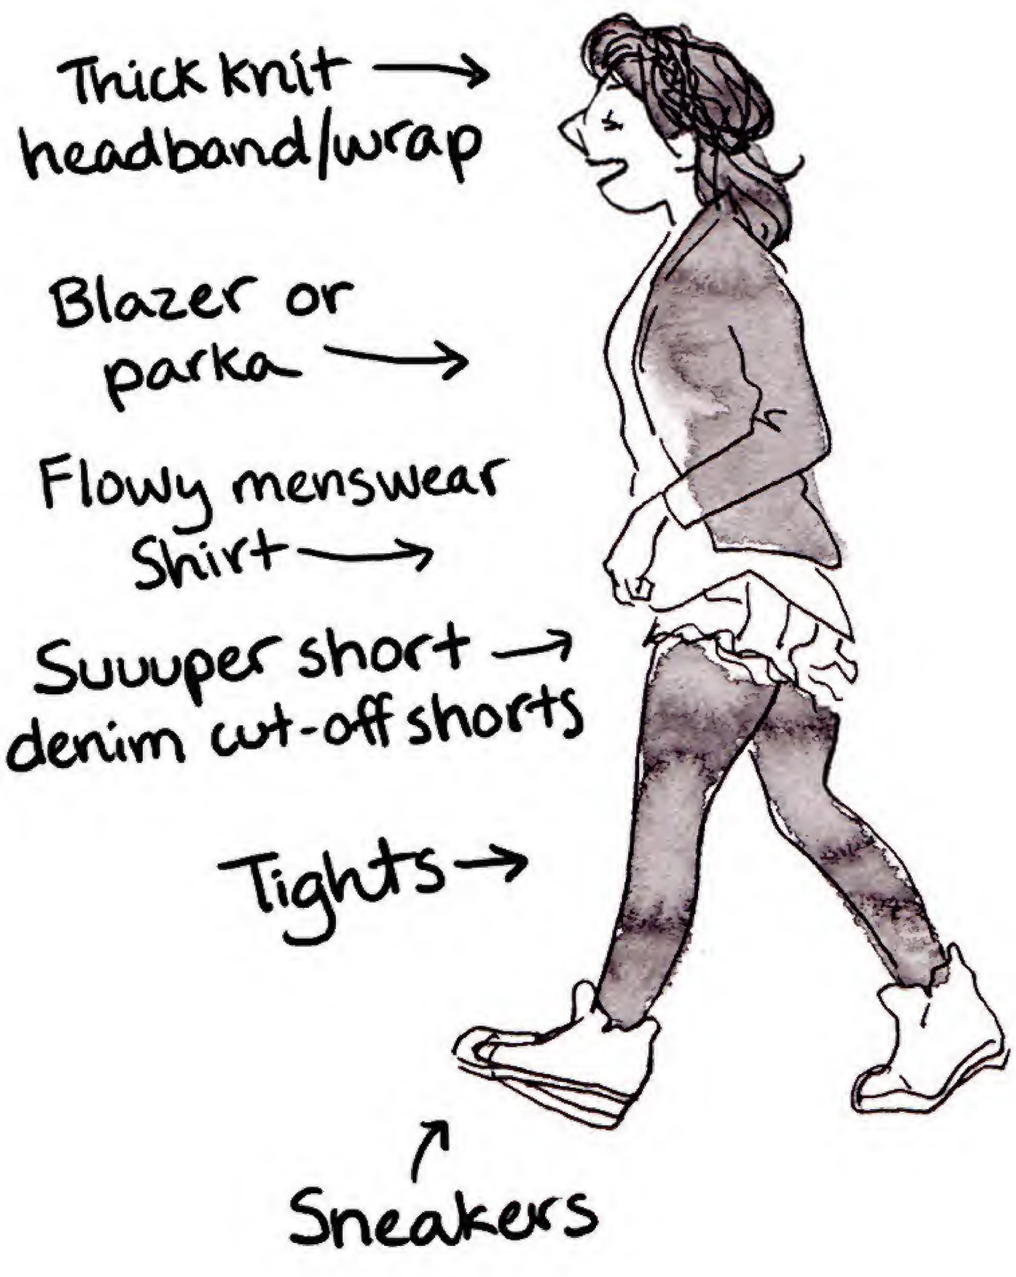
On the train back to Paris. I was exhausted and expecting to just sleep, but I turned out to be very inspired and drew scenes out of my imagination for the entire trip!





I liked this guy's bike posture. I hope he walks that way.

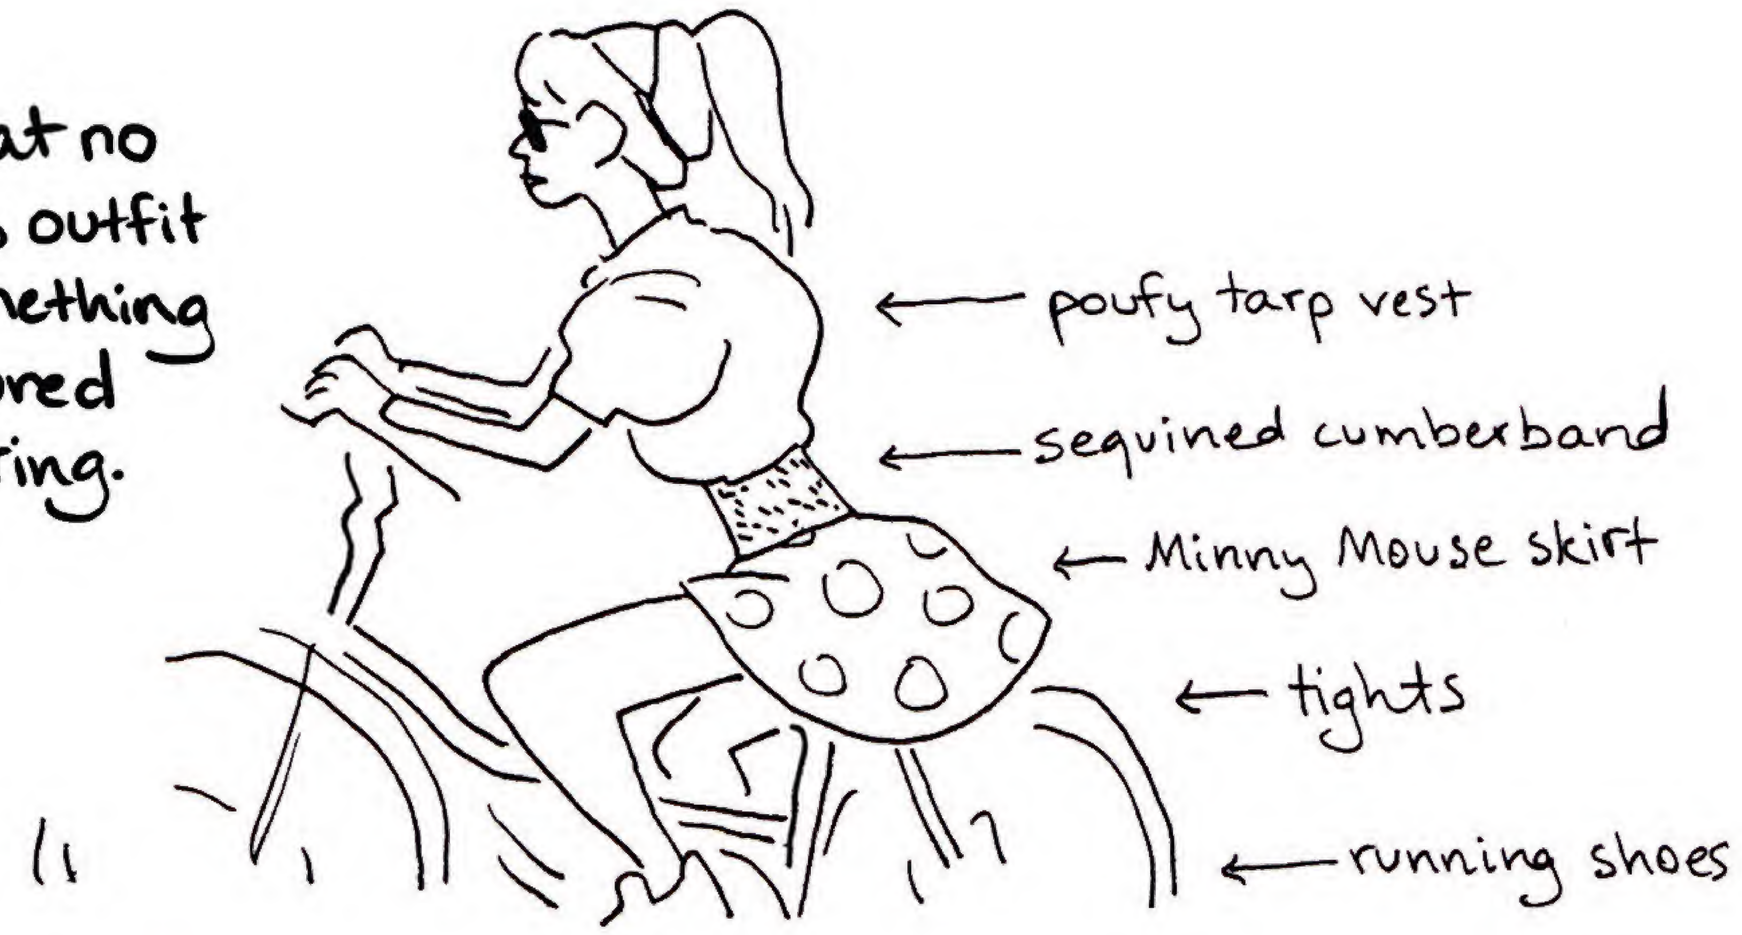
I like looking for trends in women's outfits. Sometimes there are style recipes I feel I could pull off in my own wardrobe. Here are two I was able to pick out:



Likewise, when I saw this outfit on a stylish young woman, I feared for the future:

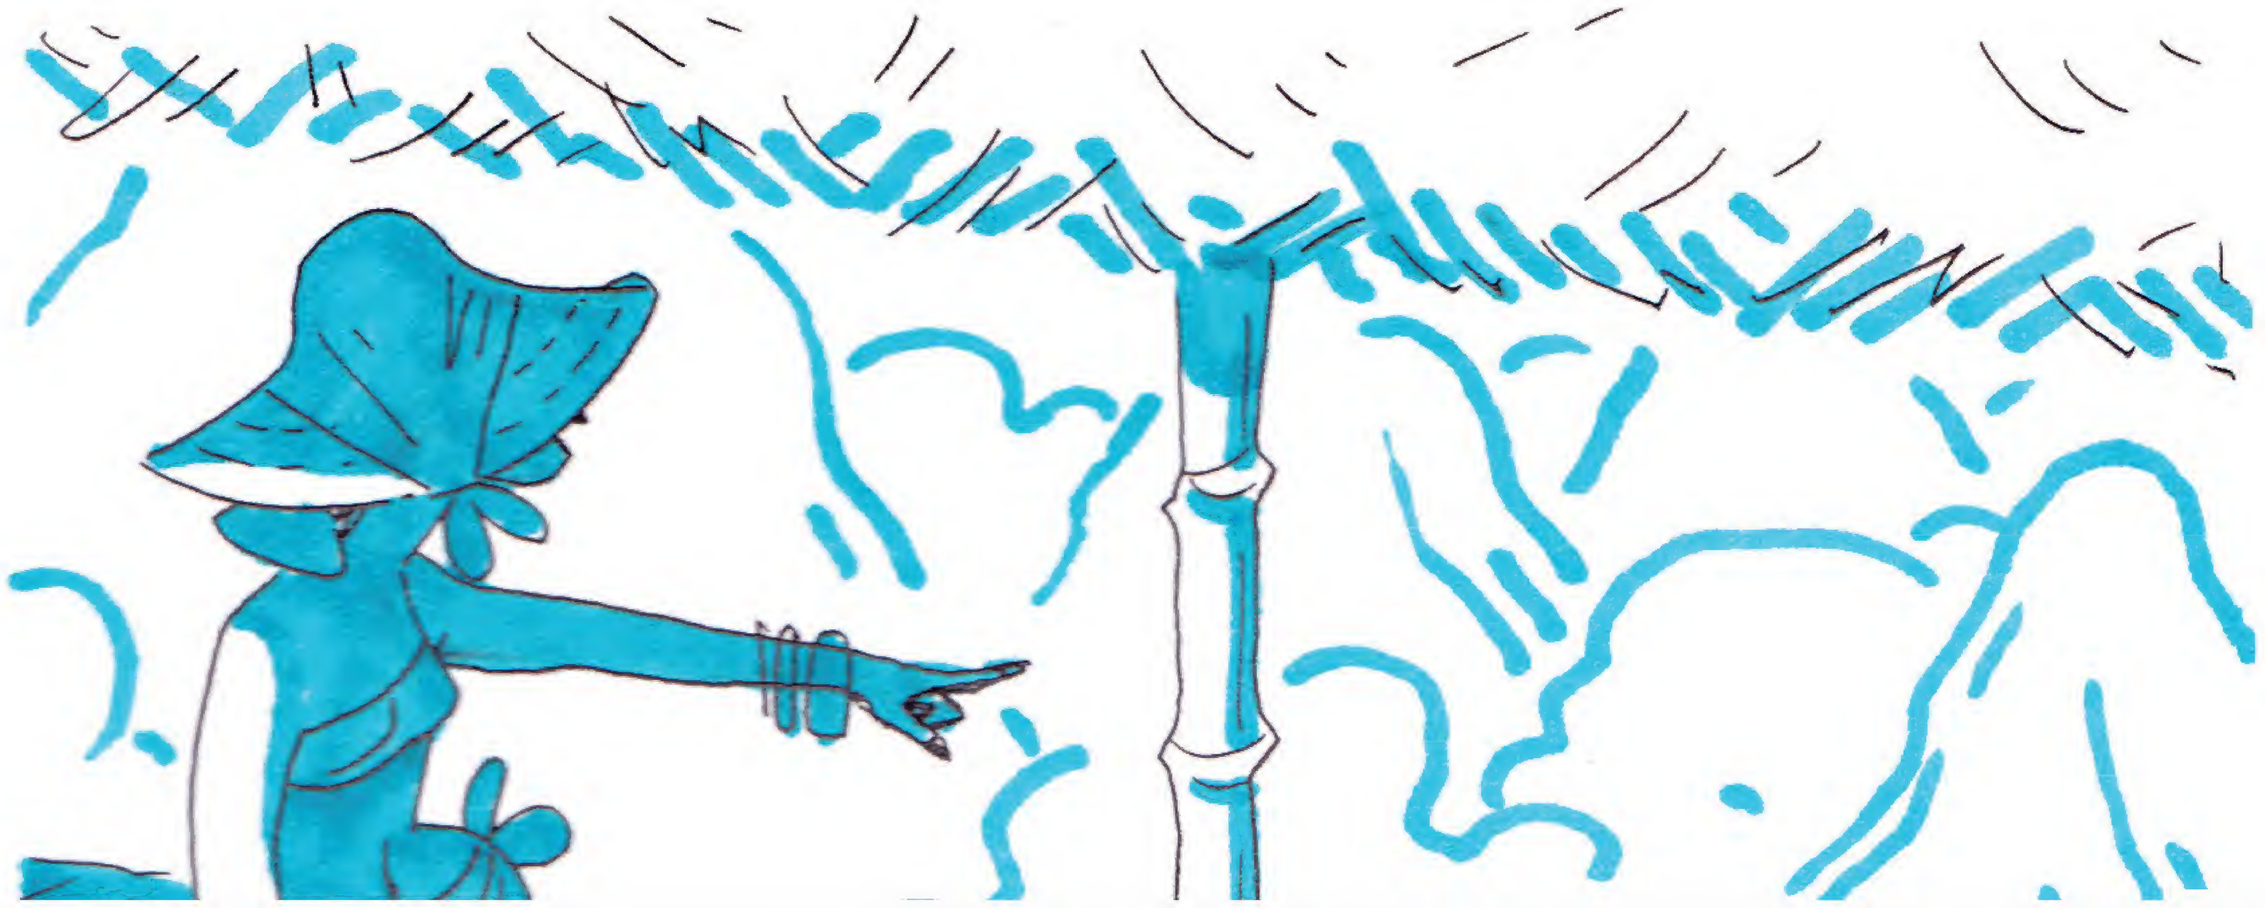
I hope that no part of this outfit becomes something I'm pressured into wearing.

X__X



I WANT THAT FLOPPY BLACK FELT HAT THAT EVERYONE HAS

On the train back to Paris. I was exhausted and expecting to just sleep, but I turned out to be very inspired and drew scenes out of my imagination for the entire trip!



ABOUT THE CREATOR

NATALIE "TALLY" NOURIGAT is a cartoonist from Portland, Oregon. You may know her from Between Gears (Image Comics), It Girl & The Atomics (Image Comics), A Boy & A Girl (Oni Press), or her current webcomic Home Is Where The Internet Is. Natalie loves traveling, meeting new people, and drawing late into the night. She is currently living in Paris and exploring other parts of Europe whenever possible. Follow her on Twitter @Tallychyck.

monkeybrain COMICS

monkeybraincomics.com